

Public Disclosure:
Ancilla College
Voluntary Resignation of Accreditation
Effective: June 30, 2021

Ancilla College in Donaldson, Indiana, voluntarily resigned its accreditation with the Higher Learning Commission effective June 30, 2021. Its status as an HLC-accredited institution expired on the effective date above when the college ceased operations. Credits and degrees earned from Ancilla College through that date remain accredited.

To provide transparency for all stakeholders, HLC publishes a Directory of Institutions on its website (www.hlcommission.org/directory). The directory includes information about a college or university's accreditation status and history with HLC.

About the Higher Learning Commission

The Higher Learning Commission accredits approximately 1,000 colleges and universities that have a home base in one of 19 states that stretch from West Virginia to Arizona. HLC is a private, nonprofit accrediting agency. It is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education and the Council for Higher Education Accreditation. Questions?
